

Student Name: _____

Class Period: _____ Date: _____

Student Guide

This guide will be used to organize information presented in the lessons and discussions presented by the teacher in the Evaluating A Web Site presentations.

Note that although each area asks the same questions, each unit covers different facts and will require you to write answers that show an understanding of that particular area.

Different units may be covered on different days, so it is important that you keep this guide in a safe place until the teacher requests that you turn it in.

Purpose

1. In your own words, what was the main idea presented?
2. In looking at one of the examples from the web link used, what did you feel was the most useful piece of information or detail about the web site, in regard to the theme of the lesson?
3. How would using the information presented be useful to you when searching for information on a web site?

Authority

1. In your own words, what was the main idea presented?
2. In looking at one of the examples from the web link used, what did you feel was the most useful piece of information or detail about the web site, in regard to the theme of the lesson?
3. How would using the information presented be useful to you when searching for information on a web site?

Objectivity

1. In your own words, what was the main idea presented?

2. In looking at one of the examples from the web link used, what did you feel was the most useful piece of information or detail about the web site, in regard to the theme of the lesson?

3. How would using the information presented be useful to you when searching for information on a web site?

Appropriateness

1. In your own words, what was the main idea presented?

2. In looking at one of the examples from the web link used, what did you feel was the most useful piece of information or detail about the web site, in regard to the theme of the lesson?

3. How would using the information presented be useful to you when searching for information on a web site?

Currency

1. In your own words, what was the main idea presented?

2. In looking at one of the examples from the web link used, what did you feel was the most useful piece of information or detail about the web site, in regard to the theme of the lesson?

3. How would using the information presented be useful to you when searching for information on a web site?

Responsibility

1. In your own words, what was the main idea presented?

2. In looking at one of the examples from the web link used, what did you feel was the most useful piece of information or detail about the web site, in regard to the theme of the lesson?

3. How would using the information presented be useful to you when searching for information on a web site?

Clarity

1. In your own words, what was the main idea presented?
2. In looking at one of the examples from the web link used, what did you feel was the most useful piece of information or detail about the web site, in regard to the theme of the lesson?
3. How would using the information presented be useful to you when searching for information on a web site?

Accessibility

1. In your own words, what was the main idea presented?
2. In looking at one of the examples from the web link used, what did you feel was the most useful piece of information or detail about the web site, in regard to the theme of the lesson?
3. How would using the information presented be useful to you when searching for information on a web site?

Hoaxes

1. In your own words, what was the main idea presented?
2. In looking at one of the examples from the web link used, what did you feel was the most useful piece of information or detail about the web site, in regard to the theme of the lesson?
3. How would using the information presented be useful to you when searching for information on a web site?